№ 553.

LONDON.

LAST Thurſday Sennight, M. Vander Heim took his Oath and Seat in the Aſſembly of Holland at the Hague, as Penſionary in the Room of the deceaſed M. Slingeland, and was thereupon complimented by all the Penſionaries of the ſeveral Towns, in a very diſtinguiſhed Manner.

The States General have diſpos'd of the Office of Treaſurer of the Union, in Favour of M. Ten Hove. M. Vander Hoop is made Secretary of the Council of State: And M. Buys, Son to the Secretary of Holland, and late Penſionary of Amſterdam, is made Secretary to the Generality's Chamber of Accompts.

His Britannick Majeſty, by a Letter, dated at St. James's the 5th of February laſt, to the Commiſſioners and Profeſſors of the Univerſity which he lately founded at Gottingen, has appointed the 17th of September next, for its Solemn Inauguration; and has directed that it be call'd after his Name, The Univerſity of George Auguſtus. This Gottingen is a Town upon the River Leine, near the Frontiers of Heſſe-Caſſel, and is ſuppoſed to be the Munitium of the Ancients.

The Veſſels ſo long expected by the Engliſh, Dutch, and other Ships, with Iron and Copper from the Mines along the Swediſh Coaſts, are arriv'd at Stockholm.

They write from thence, That the Dutch Miniſter there takes a great deal of Pains to know the Grounds of the Treaty of Commerce, which was concluded laſt Summer betwixt Great Britain and Sweden, but that he cannot yet learn the Secret.

Letters from Gottenburgh ſay, That the Cargoe of the Ship which is juſt ready to ſail for China, amounts in Money and Goods to 60000 Crowns; which is one Thirdmore than the Cargoe of the Ship that they ſent thither laſt.

Don Sebaſtian de la Quadra, the Spaniſh Secretary of State, has declar'd that the King his Maſter had receiv'd certain Advice, that there's a great Number of Foreign Ships upon the Coaſts of New Spain; and that his Catholick Majeſty is very uneaſy at it, becauſe of the great Prejudice which they do to the Commerce of his Subjects. The Weather continues ſo cold and dry in Spain, that their Crops are exceeding ſcanty; and 'tis believ'd the Government will be forc'd to ſend for Corn to England, Holland, and other Northern Countries.

Laſt Thurſday His Majeſty in Council declar'd his Grace William Duke of Devonſhire, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, in the Room of his Grace Lionel Duke of Dorſet, whom his Majeſty hath appointed Lord Steward of his Houſhold.

Laſt Friday Night died, at his Houſe in Watling-ſtreet, Mr. Sturges, a very noted Confectioner.

George Thomas, Eſq; one of the Council of Antigua, a Gentleman eminent for his Probity, and great Abilities, and who was therefore lately choſe Governor of Philadelphia, by the Lords Proprietors, was laſt Week confirmed in that Government, by his Majeſty in Council.

Laſt Saturday their Royal Highneſſes the Prince and Princeſs of Wales, attended by ſeveral Perſons of Diſtinction, went to Hampton-Court to Dinner, and in the Evening returned to St. James's.

Laſt Friday died at his Houſe at Penſhurſt, in the County of Kent, George Dormer, Eſq;

The ſame Day died, at his Houſe in New Bond-ſtreet, Thomas Hanmer, Eſq; Member of Parliament for Caſtleriſing in Norfolk: He married Miſs Percival, Daughter of the Right Hon. the Earl of Egmont, of the Kingdom of Ireland, by whom he has left no Iſſue.

We hear that Wm. Hanmer, Eſq; his Brother, will be elected Member of Parliament for Caſtleriſing in his Room.

Laſt Friday died, at his Houſe at North-end, near Hammerſmith, Gilbert Finch, Eſq, a Gentleman of a good Eſtate in the County of Nottingham.

The ſame Day died immenſely rich, at her Houſe in Audley-ſtreet, near Groſvenor-ſquare, Madam Peters, Relict of the late Thomas Peters, of the County of Kent, Eſq; Laſt Saturday Morning his Grace John Duke of Bedford, was married at the Right Hon. the Lord Gower's Houſe in Brook-ſtreet, to the Hon. Miſs Gower, Daughter to the Right Hon. the Lord Gower, by his firſt Wife, the Lady Pierpont, Daughter to Evelyn late Duke of Kingſton: After the Ceremony was over, their Graces, attended by a great Number of Nobility, ſet out for his Grace's Seat at Cheam in Surrey, in order to celebrate their Nuptials.

Laſt Thurſday Dr. Butler was elected Member of Parliament for the Univerſity of Oxford, in the room of Wm. Bromley, Eſq; deceaſed.

The ſame Day Sir Edmund Iſham, Baronet, was elected Knight of the Shire for the County of Northampton, in the room of his Brother Sir Juſtinian Iſham, Bart. deceaſed.

Laſt Friday Night died in an advanced Age, at his Seat at Farnborough Place in Hampſhire, the Right Hon. Arthur Anneſley, Earl of Angleſey, Viſcount Valentia, Baron Anneſley of Newport Pagnel, Baron Mount Norris, and Bart. His Lordſhip married Mary Daughter of John late Lord Haverſham, by whom he had no Iſſue, and is ſucceeded in Honour and Eſtate by the Hon. Arthur Anneſly, Eſq; his Nephew and Heir.

His Majeſty is expected at the Houſe of Peers on Thurſday next, in order to paſs the Land Tax Bill, and ſuch others as are ready for the Royal Aſſent.

On Saturday laſt died, after a tedious Indiſpoſition, at his Houſe in Leiceſter-fields, Mrs. Deveil, Wife of Col. Deveil, one of his Majeſty's Juſtices of the Peace for the City and Liberty of Weſtminſter.

The ſame Day the Juſtices of the Peace for the City and Liberty of Weſtminſter, met at Weſtminſter Hall, purſuant to their laſt Adjournment, and ſeveral Perſons who ſtood bound over appeared on their Recognizances; after which they adjourned to the 13th Inſtant.

Concluſion of the Trial of William George, Thomas Childrey, and Anne his Wife, for the Murder of Elizabeth Blackford, at Marcham in Berkſhire, which was begun in this Paper of the 11th of March.

Q. HAD you any Suſpicion of Childrey's being concern'd when you went to apprehend George?

J. Collins. No, an't pleaſe your Lordſhip, no Suſpicion in the World; but only went there to find out this ſame George: So we went both together, and when we came to Childrey's, there was no body at home but his Wife, and not being willing to let her know what we came about, we ask'd her, If her Husband had ever a Game Cock to fight out? and ſhe ſaid he had never a one but that in the back Yard, ſo we went backwards to look at'n, then we ask'd where Thomas was? She told us George and he were gone a-field together to get ſome Wood, ſo we went after them, and as we went along we met William Barton, and told him the Affair; and ſo we all agreed to go and apprehend William George, and as we went up the Vineyards, we ſee William George and Thomas Childrey and his Wife all together. So I laid hold of George, and carried him before the Mayor.

Q. What did he ſay when you took hold of him?

J. Collins. When I laid hold of him, ſays I, Thee muſt go along with me, Friend, if thee bee'ſt willing; Here's a Warrant againſt thee about Murder; if thee bee'ſt innocent, I hope God will pardon thee, and if thee bee'ſt guilty, I hope he'll find out ſome Way to puniſh thee; ſo he ſaid he would go along with me, for he had done no Harm to any body.

William Barton ſworn.

I happen'd to meet John Collins, and he told me he was going for a Warrant to apprehend the Soldier Fellow for the Murder; and I ſaid to him, Sure we may take up any ſuch an a Maun as he without a Warrant: And as we were going along we ſaw Ann Childrey going before, and we ran after her.

Q. Do you think ſhe knew of your coming with an Intent to apprehend William George, and ſo was haſtening to inform him of it?

Barton. I can't tell that; an't pleaſe your Lordſhip ſhe went very faſt, that we had much ado to come up with her, but I believe ſhe did not ſee us till we were cloſe to her.

Q. Who were preſent with George when you came up to him?

Barton. No body but Childrey and his Wife, and I believe their little Boy.

Priſ. Childrey. Was not Thomas Crapper with us?

Barton. He was coming on one Side, and they going on the other.

[Here the Examinations and Confeſſions of Thomas Childrey and William George were diſtinctly read in Court, but they are too long to be inſerted here.]

Counſellor Taylor reminded the Gentlemen of the Jury, that this Depoſition was Evidence againſt William George only, and not againſt Childrey nor his Wife. Then the Court enquired of the Priſoners what they had to ſay in their Defence.

Priſ. Chil. An't pleaſe yo', my Lord, from Sunday 5 o'Clock in the Evening, till Tueſday 8 o'Clock in the Morning, I was not out of my own Houſe.

[Counſellor Taylor called Witneſſes to prove that Childrey and his Wife were both at home from ſeven of the Clock in the Evening till ten, the ſame Night the Murder was committed.]

Thomas Crapper ſworn.

C. Do you remember any thing of your being at Thomas Childrey's the Night this Murder was ſaid to be committed?

T. Crapper. Yes, I was there that Evening between ſix and ſeven o'Clock, and ſtay'd as near as I can remember till about half an hour after ſeven.

Q. What Diſcourſe had you during that Time?

T. Crapper. I aſked what was become of William George, becauſe I had heard he was going into his own Country? D——n him, ſays he, I wiſh he was gone; I never have a Bit of Victuals, but what I'm forced to carry up Stairs and hide, or elſe he eats it all up.

Q. Was Childrey and his Wife preſent all the Time you was there?

T. Crapper. Yes, they were both preſent all the Time; and more than that, ſome Time after I went away, coming by the Door again, I heard them talking; I am ſure it was their Voices.

Q. Have you known Thomas Childrey any Time? What Character does he bear?

T. Crapper. They have the Character of being very poor People; but I never heard but that they were very honeſt as to the Matter of that.

Q. Do you think they'd be guilty of robbing a Houſe, or committing of Murder?

T. Crapper. No, my Lord, I don't believe they would.

John Conſtable ſwore, that he was there from nine till half an Hour after, and that Childrey and his Wife were then at Home.

Thomas Rance, who was at Childrey's Houſe at the ſame Time, confirm'd the laſt mention'd Evidence; and both of them affirmed they knew no Harm of Childrey and his Wife; and did not believe they would be guilty of Murder.

The

Then Counſellor Taylor moved, That the Confeſſion of William George, made before the Mayor of Abingdon might be read, which was accordingly done.

Mr. Knapp of Abingdon, having been ſworn, in Order to prove this laſt Examination, was asked what he ſaid with Regard to Childrey and his Wife, at the Time this Confeſſion was made? who replied, That being ask'd, if they were any Way privy to it, he anſwered, they knew nothing of it; and ſaid further, that what he had then confeſs'd was the Truth, and that he would never ſay otherwiſe if he died for it.

Childrey's Wife was ask'd, if ſhe had any Thing to add to what her Husband had pleaded, in her own Defence; her Anſwer was No.

All that George had to ſay in his Defence was, That Childrey and his Wife were the Perſons that did the Murder, and that he only aſſiſted in the Robbery; that they were the Perſons likewiſe who perſwaded him to lay the Murder on Thomas Hall and the ſtrange Woman, and ſaid he never in his Life ſaw any ſuch Perſons.

The Jury found William George guilty of the Murder, and acquitted Childrey and his Wife.

They were all indicted a ſecond Time for feloniouſly entering the Houſe of the ſaid Joſeph Blackford, &c. and ſtealing from thence Ten Shillings and Six Pence, &c. to which Indictment they all pleaded Not guilty, and no Perſon appearing againſt them, they were all acquitted of the Robbery.

The Confeſſion of William George, made to F. Fox, Vicar of St. Mary's, Reading; George Talbot, Rector of Burfield; and Richard Hall, Curate of St. Mary's, on Saturday Morning, March 19, 1736. being the Day of his Execution.

WILLIAM GEORGE declares, That he went alone from Abingdon on Monday, Dec. 6. about Eight o'Clock at Night, to the Houſe of Joſeph Blackford, at the Magpie at Marcham, where he committed the Robbery and Murder of Elizabeth Blackford his Wife, for which he is now to die, about Nine o'Clock, as he thinks, and returned home again about Ten; and that Childrey and his Wife are innocent of the ſaid Murder and Robbery, neither were they any ways concerned in, or privy to it; but that Childrey and he have been guilty of ſeveral pilfering Robberies together, of which he has given an Account to the Perſons wronged, and that all that he hath ſaid relating to thoſe Robberies is true: He further declares, That he would not have accuſed Childrey and his Wife, but at the Inſtigation of John Bates, deceaſed, who was condemned at the ſame Aſſizes for Horſe-ſtealing, and who gave him Hopes thereby to ſave his Life; and what moved Bates to give him ſuch Advice, was, as he ſuppoſes, the Hopes he had of ſharing ſome Money, which he underſtood the ſaid George had hid in a Field near Abingdon, in order to which he promiſed that his Wife ſhould go at the Aſſizes and fetch the ſaid Money, if George would tell where it was hid, but he did not, but hath ſince diſcovered the Place where the ſaid Money is concealed to Mr. Butler, and his earneſt Deſire is that old Mr. Blackford may have all the Money returned to him again. And the ſaid William George further declared, That the Hopes he had that ſome Friends had ſufficient Intereſt to get him a Reprieve, prevailed with him to perſiſt in his Accuſation of Tho. Childrey and his Wife ſo long.

We are well aſſured, that the Report of his having received the Sacrament immediately upon his Accuſation of Childrey and his Wife, is entirely falſe; and that he was ſo far from receiving it immediately after ſuch Accuſation, that he never received it at all, neither did he much deſire it, nor did any of the Miniſters who attended him think him duly qualified for the Reception of it, or that he deſerves to be credited in any Accuſation.

The ſaid George was executed on the Day aforeſaid, and his Body delivered to the Surgeons.
